Blairmore Mayor Claims Damages Coleman Journal

Arises Out of News Report on Extortion Charge Against Former Town Constable

An echo of the extortion charge against Joe Fitzpatrick, suspended town constable of Blairmore, is heard in a letter from Blairmore's town solicitor, J. E. Gillis, demanding damages from The Journal for stating in its news report in its issue of June 20 that Mayor William Knight was present when a sum of money was allegedly extorted from a frequenter of a disorderly house on Hill 60, an area within the town of Blairmore which possesses unenviable notoriety.

In the following issue of June 27 a denial was published that Mayor Knight was present. The original report was based on a statement of the alleged victim of the extortion.

Mayor Knight claims his reputation has suffered as a result of the report. The Journal published his denial that he was not present. Despite this, he claims through his solicitor that it was inferred by The Journal he was implicated in committing a crime. The Journal published its report following information obtained as a straight news report. When Mayor Knight's solicitor pointed out to the present issue his denial was published on June 27 under a black display heading as follows: "Mayor Knight States Report is Untrue."

This not being satisfactory to Mayor Knight, it was followed by further notification from his solicitor that unless an apology was printed in the Journal, an action for damages would result, with a "demand" that $5,000 be paid forthwith to Mr. Knight.

JOURNAL RETRACTS ORIGINAL STATEMENT

Mayor Knight served notice to the following effect to The Journal: Take notice that I complain of the following paragraph in the issue of the Coleman Journal of June 20, under the heading "Extortion Plot Un-

Polish People Visited By General Secretary

Gave Addresses on Development of Poland in Recent Years and Its New Port on Baltic Sea

John Sikora, general secretary of the Polish Societies, was here last week visiting the Polish people and gathering information concerning their activities and progress. Mr. Sikora was formerly editor of the Polish Times, a weekly newspaper published in Winnipeg. He made a stay of several days here and was a welcome caller at The Journal office. There are about 500 Polish people living in the Pass towns, who through the Polish Society of Brotherly Aid have accomplished much good in the community.

On Sunday he addressed a meeting on the Federation of Polish Societies and general conditions in Poland bringing a better understanding to the Polish people and others. In the evening he again delivered an address, dealing particularly with the development of the new Polish port of Gdynia, which from a small fishing village of a few years ago had developed into a centre of over 60,000 population. It is Poland's national port on the Baltic, its only outlet to the sea, with the exception of the free port of Dantzig.

earthed at Blairmore — Town Constable Charged.

"Also it is stated that Mayor William Knight accompanied Fitzpatrick to the house where the cheque was handed over. The woman in the case at a later date tried in various places to cash one of the cheques, and Coleman postmaster was asked to cash a cheque for $7500."

The Coleman Journal finds that the statement "Also it is stated that Mayor Knight accompanied Fitzpatrick to the house where the cheques were handed over" is not in accordance with the facts, and apologizes to Mr. Knight for publishing same.

The Journal endeavored to obtain a copy of the evidence of Sam Kubiak, the victim of the alleged extortion, but as the court stenographer present at the preliminary trial before Magistrate Gresham had left on holidays it was not possible to secure it in time for this issue.

There the case rests for the present, and the public will await further developments in this case which in connection with the extortion plot under which, former Constable Fitzpatrick is awaiting trial, has created keen interest throughout the Pass towns.

Liberal Candidate Opens Vigorous Election Campaign

Makes Special Appeal to Mine Workers Whose Welfare Is Of Primary Importance to Rocky Mountain Constituency

YOUR VOTE AND INFLUENCE

Is solicited on behalf of DONALD J. MACNEIL, Liberal Candidate for Rocky Mountain constituency. Nominated by the Liberal Association at a convention of delegates, Mr. MacNeil solicits your support as a capable representative of the workers of the coal mining industry in the Crow's Nest Pass and at Canmore, realizing that the welfare of the coal industry is of prime importance above all other considerations to their continued employment at fair wages.

He plans on visiting every town and village in the constituency, to place before the electors his policy as a candidate of the Liberal party, which it is confidently expected will constitute the next government of the Province of Alberta.

He has been endorsed not only by the Liberal party of the riding, but also has received assurance of support of Conservatives, who decided not to place a candidate in the field to oppose him, believing that the best interests of the constituency can be served by uniting in the effort to elect him to the Legislature.

The Liberal Association urges every worker in the riding to give him their active and enthusiastic support, and to attend his meetings to make his acquaintance and become informed on his policy.

Watch for further announcements concerning his campaign.

Coleman Drew 1-1 Against Blairmore Football Club

Still in Cellar in Crows Nest
Pass League Standing—
Jimmy Anderson Hurt

Coleman made another futile attempt to better their standing in the Crow soccer league on Saturday when they were held to a 1-1 tie by the hard fighting Blairmore eleven on the local ground. Blairmore are to be congratulated on their fine defensive methods which earned them the draw and to the fact that they played with ten men practically the entire game. Coleman players still insist in endeavoring to beat two and three players at a time and the results of such tactics is clearly shown by their position in the league table.

Coleman had the advantage of the opening exchanges and Joyce missed a splendid chance in the first minute. Blairmore steadied and took play into Coleman territory where Parker was fouled by Hastings outside the penalty area. Evans took the free kick and beat Ford to put Blairmore one up after three minutes of play. A few minutes later Joyce missed a "sitter" when W. Anderson crossed a beauty in front of goal and Joyce had nobody to beat. At the fifteen minute mark Womersley was injured and was taken off for the rest of the game. Play was keen for a short time climaxing in the Coleman front line staging a short passing attack in front of Stewart with Brown scoring.

The second half was all Coleman with the exception of few break-aways by Blairmore. Blairmore put up a stubborn defence and Evans and Dawson were outstanding in this work. Coleman bombarded Blairmore's goal from all angles but poor shooting offset this advantage. Two Coleman players were injured causing re-arrangement of the team which tended to weaken it somewhat. The final score found the teams dead-locked 1-1.

REV. ROY TAYLOR IS PINCHER CREEK CANDIDATE

The advisory council of Social Creditors selected a candidate from outside of the constituency in the person of Rev. Roy Taylor, minister of St. Paul's United Church, Coleman.

He has spent time addressing meetings in this district and Pincher Creek, and confirmation of his candidature was anticipated for several weeks. The election takes place on August 22.

In the meantime the U.F.A. and line party supporters are vigorously campaigning. The U.F.A. candidates are making of Social Credit the main issue, and among the farmers are endeavoring to show that under Mr. Aberhart's plan to fix a "just price" on wheat they will have to bear the greatest share of the cost of basic dividends, they forming the largest portion of the population of Alberta and having the greatest producing power.

Labor also views with misgiving Aberhart's declaration that he will fix a just price, as they take the view that in assuming such power he will take from them the right of collective bargaining in regard to wage scales. Such an attitude would affect the large number of mine workers in Rocky Mountain constituency.

Canmore Teacher Selected From Four Nominations in Rocky Mountain Constituency

Disappointing to Social Credit supporters of Principal McLean of Bellevue and Principal D. Hoyle of Coleman, but pledged nevertheless to support the choice of Mr. Aberhart's advisory council in Calgary, announcement was made that E. A. Duke, teacher of Canmore, will carry the banner in this provincial constituency.

Little is known of the candidate in the southern portion of the riding, as he has not appeared at any meetings in this district.

Air Routes Are Valuable

Make Communication With All Parts

Of Empire Possible

Air and Empire are closely linked. The most valuable bonds in any empire are its communications. The Romans knew that. Their roads were veins for their empire's lifeblood. But the speed of modern transport has made communications ten times more valuable. If Britons and Americans could have used air planes to exchange their views in 1775 America might never have left the Empire. The more air routes we open to keep the Empire together the fewer problems will arise to keep it apart—London Sunday Express.

Commission To Deal With Social Insurance Has Been Appointed

Ottawa.—Described by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett as the first federal body to be constitutionally empowered to deal with unemployment as a national problem, the new employment and social insurance commission was named Saturday with, Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, former premier of Nova Scotia, as chief commissioner. Official announcement was made Saturday night by the prime minister.

Associated with Col. Harrington will be Tom Moore, Ottawa, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, selected after consultation with workers' organizations, and N. R. Beaudet, Montreal insurance broker representative of the employers' interest.

While the primary duty of the commission will be to establish machinery for setting up an unemployment insurance fund on a contributory basis, the commission is also instructed to make investigations to ascertain what may be done for the currently unemployed.

This commission will also be required to set up in each province employment agencies designed to bring employer and worker together and to assist workers in reaching employment.

Col. Harrington will receive a salary of $10,000 and the two commissioners $9,000 each. Headquarters will be in Ottawa. Just what department of government will have jurisdiction over the commission has not yet been decided, but it is likely the minister of labor will be the responsible government member.

Appointment of Moore will necessitate his retirement from the presidency of Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, which position Mr. Moore has held for 17 years. The annual meeting of the congress opens in Halifax on Sept. 16 when his successor will be elected.

One of the first duties will be to compile records of the unemployed and employable population, the first official effort in that direction since the census of 1931.

The insurance scheme itself applies to a wide list of selected classes of employment while certain others are excluded. It applies to men and women workers, who will be required to contribute small amounts weekly, their employers similar amounts, and the government a larger amount, but carrying the administration costs. A worker must make 40 weekly contributions before he or she becomes eligible for compensation, which ranges from $6 a week downward.

The commission will also take steps to set up means of occupational and physical training of unemployed men to prepare them for vocations when work may become available.

There will also be insurance officers appointed in each province, as well as local advisory agencies, and an insurance advisory committee of not more than six members and not serving full time on a salary basis.

Another duty of the commission will be to study and report on proposed methods of health insurance in co-operation with provinces and municipalities, and make recommendations to the governor-in-council.

Ontario Unemployed Must Work Or Be Cut Off Relief

Toronto.—Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn has issued an ultimatum to unemployed in all parts of Ontario they must work or be cut off relief.

The policy of "no work, no relief" goes for every part of the province.

Hon. David Croft, minister of welfare, declared no labor troubles would be permitted in the "cash relief for work" plan under which more than $8,000,000 has been assigned to municipal projects throughout the province.

"We've laid down a policy of 'no work, no relief,' the premier said. 'Agitators have been active among

Liner In Collision

Niagara Suffers Damage After Leaving Vancouver For Australia

Victoria.—Showing less damage than was feared, the Canadian-Australian liner Niagara was tied up with 40 feet of railing on the port bow of "C" deck and 10 feet of superstructure on "B" deck shorn away, and three plates buckled above the water line. The damage was suffered in collision with the freighter King Egbert, 23 miles off Race Rocks, strait of Juan de Fuca. The Egbert, like the Niagara, returned to port under her own power, with a smashed forefoot and a wedge cut 10 feet deep into the main deck.

The Niagara, 34,415 tons, sailed from Vancouver and Victoria for Honolulu, Suva, New Zealand and Australia.

Prime Minister Joseph A. Lyons of Australia, a passenger on the Niagara, said the passengers took the collision philosophically after the first bit of excitement. No one was injured.

The crash occurred just as many of the passengers were sitting down to a motion picture program. The pictures were resumed about an hour later and a dance took place while the liner made her way back to port through fog. It is believed the Niagara will be delayed about a week in her resumed sailing.

Wheat Board

Expected To Commence To Function On Sept. 1

Ottawa.—The Canadian wheat board probably will take over operations Sept. 1, it was learned here. Until it begins to function no announcement is expected as to the disposal of the wheat carryover, except the repeated assurance of Premier R. B. Bennett it would not be dumped on the market.

The visible supply of Canadian wheat is now somewhat under 200,000,000 bushels and will be less at the end of the crop year, July 31. It is not expected much new wheat will come on to the market before Sept. 1 because the late spring held back seeding, so the visible supply should continue to fall until that date.

Personnel of the new board will be announced shortly and one of its first duties will be to decide the minimum price to farmers. The suggestion has been advanced to the government farmers should receive 50 cents a bushel for number one northern on the farm as a first payment. This would be around 70 cents at the head of the lakes, it is contended.

The act creating the board provides the board buy wheat from the farmer at a fixed minimum price and make later payments if it is able to dispose of the wheat at prices higher than the minimum.

Farm Help Needed

Winnipeg.—Farm help requirements in Manitoba concurrently are heavier than for five years, officials of the employment service of Canada reported. Applications number from 20 to 50 daily, and so far this week 175 placements have been made.

Montreal.—Sydney Buckwold of Saskatoon, student in the third year of the faculty of commerce at McGill University here, has been awarded the Joseph H. Jacobs prize for accountancy. The prize is valued at $25.

Plan To Aid Jobless

Receive Wages For Breaking Up Railway Box Cars

Toronto.—Unemployed get wages, the Canadian National Railway gets its box cars broken up for nothing, and Scarborough Junction gets a supply of lumber.

That, in substance, is the ingenious scheme worked out to aid jobless in the township just east of here. The men receive wages for breaking up the old cars, instead of a relief allowance.

In addition each man on relief is given a free truckload of wood which he is allowed to select himself. And in the $1 per load paid to truckers to carry the wood away there is money for private truck owners and to the township for upkeep of its own trucks.

Approximately 1,500 men have been at least a few days work in the six weeks the project has been operating. The railway has 502 box cars to be demolished. Already 180 have been disposed of.

On any day, 200 men are employed in an hour. They are paid 50 cents an hour by the township, and report every two weeks for work. Each is entitled to as much work as his relief allowance would amount in wages.

Alberta Elections

Date For Polling In Provincial Contest Set For Aug. 22

Edmonton, Alta.—All parties are preparing for what promises to be one of the most keenly fought campaigns in years following official announcement Alberta provincial elections will be held Thursday, Aug. 22, with nomination day, Aug. 12.

Announcement of polling date was made by Hon. George Hoadley, acting premier, in the absence of Premier R. G. Reid, leader of the United Farmers of Alberta forces, which party has held power for 14 years.

Floods in northern Alberta which handicapped campaigning have caused the government to postpone selecting a date until now, Mr. Hoadley said. However, the flood situation had not improved materially and it was decided further delay would be inadvisable, particularly in view of the prospect of an early Dominion election.

All political parties, including the newly-formed Aberhart Social Credit Party, have been holding nominating conventions during the past few weeks, and it is expected more than 200 candidates will be in the running for the 63 seats in the legislature.

Experimental Station Post

L. B. Thompson To Take Over Duties At Swift Current

Ottawa.—L. B. Thompson, officer in charge of the Dominion range experimental station at Manbyberies, Alta., has been appointed superintendent of the experimental station at Swift Current, Sask. It was announced from the agriculture department. Mr. Thompson succeeds Hon. J. G. Taggart, now minister of agriculture for Saskatchewan.

Mr. Thompson was born in New Zealand 35 years ago. He is a graduate of University of Alberta.

TO RETIRE

Hon. R. C. Matthews, Minister of National Revenue in the Dominion Government, will not seek re-election to parliament during the coming General Elections. Ill-health is the cause of his retirement from politics.

Severe Hail Losses

Damages Reported To Be Heavy In Some Alberta Areas

Calgary.—Heavy hail damage to crops, in some cases reported to be 100 per cent., was caused by storms which struck several districts of southern Alberta last week. Areas hit were Staveley, Carlsland, Strathmore, De Winton, Granum and Macleod.

Serious losses were suffered at De Winton as hail swept a large area around that town and continued east toward Carlsland and Strathmore. Strathmore's losses were reported to be light while at Carlsland damage was fairly heavy. De Winton's losses will run between 75 and 100 per cent. over most of the district. Hailstones as large as marbles fell.

Heavy losses were feared at Staveley and Granum. Heavy rain fell over most of the southern section of the province and at Brooks it was reported to approach cloudburst proportions.

From Aldreide came a report that a severe electric storm struck the district and farmers six to eight miles south were hailed out in the heaviest hail storm in several years.

Medals For Veterans

Alberta Men Honored For Service In Great Revolt

Edmonton.—While an enthusiastic audience of 4,200 paid homage with applause, 27 of the early west's famous fighting men who participated in the campaign against the rebel Louis Riel in 1885 got recognition for their part in that historic struggle when they received "peace medals" given to them at the Edmonton exhibition by the Northern Alberta Pioneers' and Old-Timers' Association.

The veterans marched single file on to the stand, shoulders squared and heads erect, giving little evidence that half a century had passed since they had stood in that fashion in soldier ranks. Hon. W. L. Walsh, lieutenant-governor of Alberta, and Major General Hon. W. A. Griesbach lauded their conduct in the frontier warfare.

ROYAL AIR FORCE THRILLS THOUSANDS

A tremendous crowd attended the annual R.A.F. display at Hendon this year to witness the best display ever put on by the daring British fliers. Here we see part of the No. 26 Squadron of Audax planes roaring over the heads of a small section of the crowd.

Hon. H. H. Stevens Makes First Platform Appeal For Support

Hamilton.—In this city where two weeks ago the Reconstruction party came into being, Hon. H. H. Stevens, its leader, made his first platform appeal for support in the general election. He declared his conviction "that this period through which we are passing is the end of an old and the beginning of a new epoch."

He asserted the "bogy of Communism in Canada rather amuses than alarms me." He had, he said, visited relief camp strikers and found they were not agitators nor Communists.

"But," he warned, "they may be influenced by Communist leaders, because the Communist leaders befriend and counsel them, while governments and the majority of the people ignore them."

He appealed on behalf of youth. "Youth of to-day are not worshippers of the golden calf," he said. "They are more concerned with security in employment and cultural opportunity. They are asking not for dols, but for a chance to do big things. I value the mature counsel of older men, but I want young men with me in any government I may head."

The real issue in the election, Mr. Stevens said, was "between the people and a handful of men who dominate and dictate Canada's affairs."

It was not between the Liberal leader and the Conservative leader. "The only question between them is to which of the two old parties will the big interests throw its main support—you may rest assured it will be to that party which appears to have the best chance of winning."

He favored a reconstruction of the economic and social life of Canada so that not a chosen few, but all, might enjoy the achievements of science. Thousands were homeless and existed on charity, he said, while some lived luxuriously under present conditions.

At the outset he stepped on rumors which he declared had been spread "most assiduously" that he was not sincere in his leadership of the party, that he and Prime Minister R. B. Bennett were really in league, and that the whole thing was a "camouflage." While his audience laughed, he remarked that he thought Mr. Bennett himself would be the first person to deny such statements, in which there was not an iota of truth.

To veterans he had a special message. He promised, if returned to power, to see that the recommendations of the Hyndman commission which recently reported at Ottawa would be implemented. Also it was his intention to have a veterans' committee established in Ottawa to keep him in touch with problems of the returned men so that they might be dealt with.

"There is no place in Canada for destructive revolution," he told the audience. "We are builders, not wreckers. Canada is still the best country in the world to live in. But there are many, too many, who through the greed of a few are denied the right to earn their living and take their rightful place as citizens. We wish to restore these rights."

The housing bill passed at the last session of parliament he referred to as "an act for the relief of mortgage and loan companies." It was not an effective measure to assist housing.

As opposed to the achievement of power and wealth, Mr. Stevens maintained, the Reconstruction party stood for decentralization of power and wealth, restoration of power and wealth, and reconstruction. It advocated decentralization of power and wealth, "so that all those who toil may have a larger share in the wealth they produce."

Two Passengers Killed

Wrecked In England

London.—Two persons were killed in the blazing wreckage of an aeroplane which crashed at the edge of Heston aerodrome after a takeoff for Spithead for the silver jubilee review of the British fleet.

The dead were two passengers, Major J. H. Hobbs and N. Newhouse. The pilot and the five other passengers, including one woman, Margaret Vickers, were rushed to hospital suffering from burns and injuries.

Victims Of Chinese Flood

Hankow, China.—Unofficial reports from Tienmen, Hopeh province, said 14,000 bodies had been recovered from the flooded Han river. These bodies said 4,000 refugees had been rescued from tree-tops in that vicinity. Tienmen is 75 miles west of Hankow.

Strikers At Vancouver

Men Decline To Work At Relief Camp

Vancouver.—Approximately 150 relief camp men who went on strike at four camps near Hope, 80 miles from here, arrived in Vancouver by freight train.

When the men declined to work, camp authorities issued an ultimatum that they must work or leave camp. Some 50 British Columbia police were sent to the camps to enforce the ruling.

There was no trouble. The men continued to decline to work and were taken in trucks to Hope where they caught a freight. Each man was given 60 cents on leaving camp.

A delegation from the strikers waited on provincial relief officials and asked for relief. They were refused. Most of the strikers, it is reported, are members of the groups which arrived in Vancouver recently from Regina.

Says Public Is Out Of Patience With Agitators In Canada

Victoria.—Praise for the level-headed action of the provincial police in the Corbin riots this year, and some plain speaking from the bench featured in a judgment handed down at Fernie recently by Judge G. H. Thompson, who sustained conviction of 10 men sentenced for making trouble at the scene, and who expressed a warning to others that the public was out of patience with agitators in Canada.

A copy of the judgment was received by the attorney-general's department. It read, in part, as follows:

"Three months ago," his honor told the accused, "the papers were full of your actions. The Corbin riots appeared in the newspapers with headlines in red. I was interested in reading this morning to see that you occupy about as much space in the newspapers. The people have lost their interest in you; you amount to so little in the eyes of the public that the newspapers hardly mention you."

"On the other hand, what is occupying the attention of the people to-day? What has occupied the thoughts of the people for the last 100 years and will occupy them for untold generations to come? Canada! And so you thought you could fight Canada. Canada has no room for men like you. What is more, Canada has no time for men like you. Canada is working out its own problems. It is too busy working out its own destiny to be bothered with men like you."

"You are too small to fight a nation. I hope that one thought will be a lesson to you three men and to the rest of the community. We are none of us big enough to fight our nation. No section, whether it be an aggregation of wealth or an aggregation of violence, can fight the country."

"I wonder, too, if you ever thought whom you were fighting in the concrete? The men whom you were fighting were men just like you—men, just as you are, earning their daily bread, doing their duty. You sent several of them to the hospital. You have maimed some of them. Do you think it is fair? They are no better, no worse, than you men. They risk their lives for a small wage. You are risking your lives in the mines. We all have to work. There is no room in Canada for the man who does not work."

NOTES AND COMMENTS

JUDGE Thompson, giving judgment recently at Fernie on the Corbin strikers' riot of May last, said: "Three months ago the papers were full of your actions. The Corbin riots appeared in the newspapers with headlines in red. I was interested in reading this morning to see that you occupy about an inch of space in the newspaper. The people have lost their interest in you; you amount to so little in the eyes of the public that the newspapers hardly mention you."

Mob appeals, appeals to sentiment and emotion, whether from the agitator's soap-box or the demagogue's pulpit, cannot withstand the calm reasoning power of logic which must prevail to ensure sound government.

COMPETITION we all must meet, and unquestionably good printed matter and well set up and cleanly printed newspapers is the best method to offset substitutes often printed under sweat-shop conditions which no self-respecting publisher would tolerate. Strengthen the influence of the local weekly, make it a force for good in the community, so that it will merit the whole-hearted support of the local population, and it will remain the leading advertising medium against all other forms.

"WANTED—a man who believes in himself" reads an advertising announcement. It is people who believe in themselves, not mere yes-men, who make for progress. It is profit-makers who promote the prosperity of a town or nation. Here is the reason, given by Herbert N. Casson, in the Efficiency Magazine, published in London: "All costs and losses have to be made up by net profits. There is no other way. The drought in America has covered 60 per cent of the country and caused a loss of $5,000,000,000. This loss cannot be made up by government action. The government can only shift the loss to the taxpayers, present and future. It must be made up by profits. The American people must sell $50,000,000,000 worth of goods, with a net profit of 10 per cent, to make up this loss."

RELIEF from Federal and provincial government is taken advantage of. A visitor from Vancouver was here, and to a group on the corner remarked he didn't have to work, as his rent was paid by relief, and he managed to get along O. K. "So, why work?" said he. He was dressed better than any of the men he was talking to, and had a more prosperous appearance. Relief was a good racket for him.

COURAGE! Exhibit it and recognize it. Every instance of brave resourceful or ingenious victory over adversity makes this old world richer for all good time. THE "Alberta Labor News" commenting on the purchase of post-office orders under Social Credit to pay external accounts, states: "On page 37 of the Manual in answer to a question: 'How could we pay external accounts under the Social Credit system?' the wizard gives this answer: 'The payment of external accounts would be done just as they are today. The debtor would buy at the Post Office or State Credit House a money order on the external place from which the goods came. He would pay for this money order by issuing a non-negotiable certificate.'"

"Sounds good if you say it quick, Mr. Aberhart, but it does not happen to be the way it is done today. The Post Office sells money orders for money and does not accept non negotiable certificates. They simply insist on money, they do, and what are you going to do about it? It is a dominion Post Office. It was reported to methat Mr. Aberhart proposes to set up his own Post Office. Sure, why not, and his own navy on Lesser Slave Lake too."

Journal Contest Excites Interest Young People

Several Readers Detect Intentional Error in Ladies' Advt. in Last Week's Issue

Despite keen interest in elections and other contentious matters Journal advertisements are closely scanned, judging by the number of replies received very shortly after publication of last week's issue.

Those replying included the following: Mrs. C. Lant, Peggy McDonald, Mrs. J. Ankil, Ruth Sudworth, Mrs. Fred Brown, Mrs. R. M. Greenhalgh, Oliver Salvador, Mrs. J. C. Price, Alberta Phillips, Mrs. Michael Brennan, Helen Nash, Mrs. R. F. Mitchell, Tony Ledieu.

Under the rules of the contest, the first correct reply received is awarded a year's subscription to The Journal, and Mrs. Lant's was therefore the winner.

A change in the rules is announced for this week, in order to give an equal chance to all who send in replies. Under our street deliveries, people receiving copies from the boys get their copies ahead of those who receive copies through Coleman post-office and adjacent towns.

In future replies will be received up till Monday morning following the date of issue, and placed in a box, from which one will be drawn to decide the winner.

The Journal appreciates the interest taken in this feature. The word last week was Spaghetti in Ladies' advert, which was intentionally misspelled "spaghetti." This week the intentionally misspelt word is in one of the store advertisements, so send in your copy as early as possible after you receive your copy of the paper.

Drop replies in the letter box at The Journal any time.

Competitors the previous week included Wilhelmine Michalsky, Nelli DeCecco, Margaret Roughhead, George McMullen, in addition to some replies received from outside points too late to be recorded.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Emmerson have moved to Blairmore to reside.

Miss Jean Pattinson returned on Monday from a holiday in Vancouver and Victoria, meeting many Colemanites who are holidaying at the coast.

A shower in honor of Miss Gladys Neilson was held last week when a large number of friends showered her with useful presents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Emmerson and family left recently to spend the summer holiday in Vancouver. Mr. Emmerson will return shortly, leaving the family there for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Tompkins, of Blairmore, spent a few days' holiday, during which they travelled via the Logan Pass to Spokane and Coeur d'Alene, which Mr. Tompkins states was a most delightful experience.

Mr. Sam Cooley, well-known employee of International mine, and Miss Grace Hogg, who recently arrived from London, Eng., were married on Saturday by Rev. A. S. Partington, B.A., rector of St. Alban's Anglican church. Their many friends join in congratulations.

Widespread disapproval has been expressed to The Journal by people against what they term the desecration of the Frank slide by the painting of signs on the rocks soliciting support for political candidates. Using the public highways for such purposes has aroused justified disapproval.

Result-getting advertising is a steady pull—not an occasional jerk.

The description states that the 150 delegates are in a happy mood. "No doubt!" sez we.

THE VALUE OF A LOCAL NEWSPAPER

A newspaper worthy of the name tries to perform a service to the community in which it is published, as well as furnish an income to those engaged in its production. There is no other business enterprise in a small community of which so much is expected and so much is freely given. Were this paper merely an advertising sheet, interested only in securing advertising revenue, its usefulness would soon come to an end.

We have pride in trying to publish a newspaper reflecting community life at its best. All loyal business men and citizens generally will co-operate, because we all benefit from Coleman's progress. As a man's home interests should come first in his thoughts, so should the interests of the town of which he is a part.

Great Britain has apportioned more than $25,000,000 to maintain her security by strengthening her air defence.

Single men able to work and refuse to help farmers with their harvest, will lose their city relief allowances, Mayor G. Wilson of Hamilton has announced.

A higher tonnage of merchant vessels is under construction in the world than at any time since 1932, Lloyd's quarterly report revealed. Germany leads the world outside of Great Britain, with 237,000 tons under construction.

Manitoba was 65 years old on July 15. The province was created and admitted to the Dominion July 15, 1870, though it was not until Sept. 2 of the same year that Manitoba was officially considered a unit of the Dominion of Canada.

China Goes Modern

Campaign Against Footbinding in Peking

A campaign against footbinding in the city of Peking has been launched by Yuan Liang, famous in China as the "blue law" mayor of Peking. Six regulations have been devised governing the execution of the movement.

The first regulation is that girls under 15 will not be allowed to bind their feet. Those that have already done so are ordered to unbind them immediately. Women between the ages of 15 and 30 who have their feet bound are given three months in which to unbind them. Women over 30 are permitted to unbind their feet at their leisure.

Failure to observe the new regulations results in a fine not to exceed $10 in Chinese money ($4 in Canadian) for the first warning, but if warned a second time the fine automatically becomes $100 in Chinese money, or about $40 in Canadian currency.

Bird Refuses Freedom

Prefers To Stay With Convict Who Befriended Him

Squeeg, the bird in an unglazed cage, had his chance at a pardon from Stateville Prison in Joliet, Ill., but scorned it for his steel and concrete home in cell block C.

The manner in which Squeeg achieved liberty brought a smile to John Post, 45-year-old convict, who has been Squeeg's master, confidant and cellmate since a day in 1933 when he found the horned lark fluttering in the prison yard with a broken wing.

Post, sent up for burglary, mended the fracture and spent his last $1.50 for bird seed. Squeeg moved into Post's cell.

But Post has still a year "in stir" and suggested to Warden Whipp that Squeeg should get his pardon. Accompanied by the warden, the old man went into the yard and tossed the lark into the air.

Squeeg soared over the wall—but flew right back to Post's shoulder. "I'll keep him," said Post.

Priest Drowns In B.C.

Father E. Allard, O.M.I., one of the best known priests in the remote north country, was drowned at Colton Woods rapids, in the upper Stikine river district of British Columbia, it was stated in advice to provincial police headquarters. The news was brought by Bishop E. M. Bunoz, O.M.I., spiritual head of Roman Catholics in northern British Columbia and the Yukon, with whom Father Allard was travelling.

The British Museum has a piece of iron taken from the Pyramid of Ghaz, which is believed to date from 400 B.C., and an axe head of Egyptian manufacture dating from 1370 B.C.

Has Undertaken Big Task

Pacific Island Native Wants To Translate Bible For His People

Kata Rangoso, son of a former headhunter and cannibal, is going to try to translate the Bible into the native language of a group of Pacific islands in the western Solomons.

As these natives have a spoken language, that has never been written down in any form, his task looks at first sight to be tremendous. But it is an amazing fact, a reporter discovered, that some of the native tribes have vocabularies that are far bigger than those of most educated Englishmen.

The Rev. Edwin W. Smith, of the British and Foreign Bible Society, who spent 15 years among natives of Africa, said he discovered that natives often had a vocabulary of some 10,000 words—nearly as many as Shakespeare used, and could listen to natives talking for ten years and rarely hear a grammatical mistake.

Even university men here often made such errors as "between you and I," but analogous mistakes of that kind were seldom made by the African natives, though they could not write or read a word, and had no formulated rules of grammar.

Mr. Smith described the astonishment of the natives when he showed some of them what "writing" was. One day he was in a forest cutting a tree, and he wrote a note to his wife asking her to send an axe. This note was taken by a native boy who knew an axe was wanted.

But when he saw Mr. Smith look at the paper and straightaway fetch an axe the astonished boy immediately jumped to the conclusion that the piece of paper had been "speaking" and was full of the most wonderful "magic." "Making the paper speak" became the term for "writing."

How do the native children—raw material as it were, of civilization—react when their care-free life is suddenly changed, and they are brought to school and taught, for the first time in the history of their race to write?

Mr. Smith found that they are very quick-brained, and in many cases jumped just as quick at learning as English children, whose ancestors may have been wranglers.

Find Underground Chamber

Believed To Be Torture House Of Ivan The Terrible

Moscow excavators have announced they have discovered the underground chamber where Ivan The Terrible was said to have tortured his victims nearly four centuries ago.

Definite proof was declared to have been obtained that a chamber and a tunnel, probably just as quick at learning as English children, whose ancestors may have been wranglers.

There, according to the stories told in Russia, Ivan had his victims taken to pieces by bears and sometimes buried alive.

The subway diggers came across it last winter upon investigating white and sand discovered under a razed dwelling. Geologists said the sand had been brought from some distant place. Further digging led the workmen to the remains of a court and passages which once connected it with the czar's palace.

Ivan is popularly supposed to have ordered the construction of the underground passages in 1565 so that he could watch his henchmen torture the victims. The German adventurer, Heinrich Staden, known as the underling of Ivan, wrote memoirs in which it was said that the courtyard was damp and that Ivan, consequently, had ordered it covered with sand.

To Consolidate Friendship

War Veterans From Britain Pay Visit To Berlin

Five war veterans sent by the British Legion arrived in Berlin recently for a 10-day visit with the men they faced across No Man's Land.

Led by Major Fetherstone Godley, the Britons were sent to sound out the possibility of sending a larger group of veterans to Berlin as a further movement to reconcile old front lines. The visit also was connected with a German effort to consolidate friendship with England.

Motion Picture Industry

Launching Big Production Programs For Current Year

The motion picture industry is launching its biggest production program since the bumper years of 1927-28 and it may even come up to this period.

Upwards of $150,000,000 will be spent on film making in the coming season, 95 per cent. or more of the total in California. Some will be expended in Great Britain by American companies.

Double feature programs, current in the great majority of theatres, will necessitate the production of more films than ever before, for there is a shortage now.

Pictures whose cost will range upward to $1,000,000 each include "Midsummer Night's Dream," "The Crusader," "Tale of Two Cities," and "The Last Days of Pompeii," among others.

Ruled By Foreigners

Only One Of Europe's Dictators Is Native Born

Most of Europe is now ruled by dictators. Strangely enough, most of these dictators are not natives of the countries of which they are, absolute rulers. Adolf Hitler of Germany, for example is an Austrian by birth; Mustafa Kemal of Turkey, is a Greek from Salonika; Joseph Stalin of Russia was born in Asiatic Georgia; Benito De Valera of Ireland was born in New York City; the late Josef Pilsudski of Poland was a Lithuanian. Only Mussolini, among all the more important dictators of Europe, is a native of the country he rules. He was born in Dovia, Italy.

A Friendly Tip

During the day, Mrs. Brown discharged her old maid and hired a new one, who answered the door bell when Mr. Brown arrived home in the evening. He carried a bunch of roses, which he handed to the maid, saying: "Give these to Mrs. Brown, and tell her I want to see her at once."

"All right," said the maid, "you better make it snappy, because she expects the old man any minute now."

This is a Jiffy Knit It Takes Little Time to Make

PATTERN 5395

If you want to make the most of your time, make this jiffy knit. Large needles and a heavy thread (candlewick, that very heavy cotton, or German tow) make it get done in no time. The entire blouse is in one piece. You have only the side seams to sew. The openwork yoke contrasts effectively with the closer stitch of the body of the blouse. As you can see in the detail, the stitch of the blouse has the effect of stripes. The blouse, lovely for summer, will be very practical for fall and winter, too, should sleeves being quite the thing for wear with a suit. Directions for a plain knitted skirt come with the pattern.

In pattern 5395 you will find complete instructions for making the blouse shown and the skirt in size 16-18 and 36-40; an illustration of it and of the stitches needed; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 20 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Household Arts Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

There is no Alice Brooks pattern book published.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

AMOS (Prophecy Of Social Justice)

Golden text: Let justice roll down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream. Amos 5:24.
Lesson: Amos, Chapters 4 and 7.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 85: 7-13.

Explanations And Comments

Three Visions of Judgment, Amos 7:1-9. Amos, the prophet from Judea, has gone to Bethel, the capital of the Northern Kingdom of Israel, to warn them that the nation is ripe for judgment. He tells them of a series of visions in which God has revealed to him what will come to pass. He describes a plague of locusts devouring the vegetation, but God stayed his hand against the people when Amos cried, "O Lord Jehovah, forgive, I beseech thee. Again the prophet prayed, "O Lord Jehovah, cease, I beseech thee," and his prayer was heard.

Next he had a vision of a terrible drought. "The great deep," the underground ocean on which the Hebrews imagined the earth to rest, had dried up, and the land, without its springs and fountains, was being burnt up by the sun's scorching rays. Again the prophet prayed, "O Lord Jehovah, cease, I beseech thee," and his prayer was heard.

Next he had a vision of the sanctuary at Bethel with a plumb line in his hand standing before a crooked wall and measuring it. As far off from rectitude as that crooked wall was the Northern Kingdom in all its wickedness, and the judgment of God could no longer be withheld. For this reason the prophet said, "The Eternal will not allow himself to be trifled with. The Eternal said, 'With a plumb line I test my people; never again will I pardon them'." (Moffatt's translation). "The high place of Isaac shall be desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be as that crooked wall was the Northern Kingdom in all its wickedness, and the judgment of God could no longer be withheld. For this reason the prophet said, 'The Eternal will not allow himself to be trifled with. The Eternal said, 'With a plumb line I test my people; never again will I pardon them'." (Moffatt's translation).

Amaziah Reports to the King, verses 10, 11. Amaziah, the high priest of the sanctuary at Bethel with its golden calf, sent a message to Jeremiah II, the King of Israel, accusing him of predicting the death of Jeroboam by the sword and the captivity of the people. The land, he said, was not able to bear all Amos' words—so monstrous were they.

Amos Answers Amaziah, verses 12, 13. Then Amos pronounced judgment upon the priest and the members of his family and upon the land, ending with a declaration that Israel should be led away captive out of the land.

Will Not Cut Corners

Machine Which Is Wizard At Mathematics Nearing Completion

A machine which can beat the combined efforts of 50 finest mathematicians of the world is rapidly approaching completion at the Victoria University, Manchester. In the space of ten minutes it will be able to dispose of problems which would keep even the most quick-working of human mathematicians busy for two days. It will never get tired, never suffer from headaches, and never misread its own figures. Sheer lack of time may compel the most conscientious mathematician to make "second-best" approximations. This robot mathematician has no need to "cut corners." Professor Hartree, its inventor, wants to probe way hidden to unsolved mysteries of the atom, of the travel of radio waves, and of aeroplane flight with the aid of this robot.

Would Be Gladly Welcomed

British Working On Signal To Eliminate Telephone Waits

In response to a long-felt want the British Post Office is said to be experimenting with a signal which will enable the caller to lay aside the instrument while waiting for the callee. It is to be a different click from that breaking connection and, from its double sound, will be called the "cuckoo." That such a click is needed is shown by many letters in the London Times, one of which reads in part: "It seems extraordinarily clumsy that people have to hold on, for several minutes, unable to pursue any other occupation, because no one can invent some method by which the telephone shall give tongue when the receiver at the other end is taken up again. I suppose that many hours a day are wasted in this tedious and empty employment of standing or sitting with a receiver to the ear waiting for the required voice."

Little Journeys In Science

THE BUILDING STONES OF THE UNIVERSE

(By Gordon H. Quest, M.A.)

Scientists have discovered that in decomposing certain materials by means of such agencies as heat and electricity, one always finds substances which react in such a way as to decompose them. These materials which cannot be broken up into simpler substances are known as chemical elements. At the present time 92 of these simple and fundamental forms of matter have been discovered.

Water can be decomposed by electricity into the gases hydrogen and oxygen. Red oxide of mercury can be broken up by heat into mercury (quicksilver) and oxygen, and common salt, under certain conditions, yields the metal sodium and the greenish-yellow gas chlorine. Other important elements are carbon, calcium, carbon, sulphur, nitrogen, silicon, aluminum, silver, and gold.

In recent times scientists have discovered that certain substances, known as radioactive elements, decompose spontaneously into other elements. These elements are called "radioactive elements." An example of this is common salt, which contains the element sodium (a soft, silvery metal that reacts violently with water to produce hydrogen and chlorine (a greenish-yellow, poisonous gas)). In chemical combination, however, these elements form salt, a white compound which is a necessary part of our diet.

Some common elements occur naturally as gold, platinum, copper, oxygen and nitrogen. Most of the elements, however, are combined with others in compounds, and it has been found necessary to decompose compounds in order to obtain them. Most of the elements are solids, a few occur as gases and only two, mercury and bromine, are liquids under ordinary conditions.

Although there are 92 elements, only about 25 of these are at all common and important. Moreover, it has been calculated that about 98 per cent. of the earth's crust and the atmosphere is composed of only eight elements. These are oxygen (50%), silicon (26%), aluminum (7.3%), iron (4.2%), calcium (3.2%), sodium (2.3%), potassium (2.3%), and magnesium (2%).

The spectroscope, an instrument invented by the scientists for the detection of chemical elements, has enabled man to study the composition of the sun and stars. The elements of the sun are hydrogen, helium, copper, helium, hydrogen, iron, nickel, nitrogen, oxygen, silver, and many others have been detected in the sun.

This science has revealed that all materials, from salt to the elements of the sun and stars, are made of matter known as elements.

Veterans Send Wreath

Prime Minister Lynd of Australia while in Ottawa paid tribute to the Canadian soldiers who lost their lives during the Great War. He visited the peace tower in the parliament buildings and laid a wreath on the Altar of Remembrance. The wreath was made by Australian war veterans as a token of respect for their Canadian comrades in arms who failed to return.

"Walk straight up the road till you pass my house and see a path leading into the woods. It's terrible steep and I ain't attempted it for years, though Tubbs and I got engaged to be married up there under the old pine. You'll find our initials cut in the bark with a heart around 'em. Victor Tubbs is a real good carver. If you run into anybody from the Adam ranch, Nancy, tell 'em we'll want extra milk to-morrow. And would you mind peekin' in my bedroom window and see if Tubbs is asleep?" He's got a delicate stomach, and his supper didn't set good last night."

Suppressing a smile at this unique request, Nancy promised, and started on her way. The afternoon was all her own, and it was impossible not to feel a thrill at this unbelievable December day. The sun was warm; yet the paper reported a blizzard raging in New England! It seemed incredible; and next week, Nancy mused regretfully, the Country Club would be gay with winter sports.

"I wouldn't be there anyway," she consoled herself, as the homesickness she had supposed vanquished, raised its head again. "I'd be at Edgemere wiping dishes for Mother, or mopping up puddles of onion brought in by Phil. Here's the Tubbs abode already. I must see if Victor's asleep."

This brought a smile, and homesickness retired to that place where such things go when we forget ourselves. Aurora's house which set back a space from the road, was a one-story affair covered with tree-bark, and almost hidden in a grove of stunted pines. Nancy softly up the path and peered in at a window. By pressing her face against the glass she made out an ornate iron bedstead on which the recumbent Tubbs was snoring peacefully; while one of his wife's rich cakes and an open jackknife stood on a nearby chair.

Thinking of Victor's "delicate stomach," the girl chuckled as she turned away. No wonder his suppers failed to digest! Should she tell him or? Nancy decided against this; but vowed that Cousin Columbine should hear the story. It was too good to keep.

She still smiled as she resumed her walk; but that path into the woods seemed to elude her. Concluding that she had missed it, Nancy stepped aside to escape the dust from an approaching truck, and recognizing the hatless figure of Matthew Adam, hailed him as he was about to pass.

Although on no pretext or another, Mark had dropped in almost every day of the past two weeks. Nancy had not seen Matthew since his blushing exit after colliding with Aurora Tubbs. He was blushing now, the girl observed, and wondered if it were the same blush, a new one for her special benefit! She said, as a shy smile hovered across his face on recognizing her: "Sorry to make you stop if you're in a hurry, but Aurora wants more milk to-morrow. And will you show me how I can reach that hill? I've lost my way."

As Matt led slightly from the truck to stand beside her, Nancy was again impressed with the young man's appearance. His blush had subsidied; but something told her that he was struggling with embarrassment and furious with himself because of it.

"You should have turned off just after you passed Aurora's," he told her, "but it's no wonder you missed the trail, so few go up that way. It's an easier climb from the other side. If—if you don't mind riding on the truck I'll take you 'round."

He was blushing again. Nancy caught the idea that he had forced himself to make the offer out of politeness, and thus responded: "Aren't you too busy?"

"Not busy at all; but this truck is second cousin to Methuselah, and—"

Nancy laughed. "You needn't apologize for the truck! I'm tickled to go for a ride in anything at all. My feet have had plenty of use since I struck Pine Ridge; but that hill tempted me, and the day, too. Isn't it glorious?"

With Matt's assistance she had reached the seat, and said, as they backed around: "Is it far to the other side of the hill?"

"A couple of miles, maybe."

"What? Why? I thought it was only a step!"

"To the top of that hill? Well, it's not much more, from here; but it's pretty steep, and we can ride half way up from the other side. My mother used to take us there on picnics when we were kids."

Seeing that the young man's embarrassment had dropped away when he spoke of his mother, Nancy grasped the cue.

"Cousin Columbine tells us that Mrs. Adam is—well, what she said was: 'Eve Adam is a grand success as a mother!'"

"I say she is!" Matt faced her, smiling, and Nancy saw that he had completely forgotten himself at last. Then the color dyed his face again, and he stammered awkwardly: "I—I don't mean that we boys have turned out anything above the average; but—but that—"

"I know what you mean," smiled Nancy, coming to his rescue. "I thought Cousin Columbine meant just what you're denying. It must be nice to have such enviable reputations! How did your mother manage it with all four of you?"

She couldn't resist teasing him a little, but it was kindly tact which brought her conversation back to his mother. "Matthew answered: 'By being herself. I guess she was always on hand, you know, so perhaps we didn't get into as many scrapes as some kids. Mother's a wonder; and Dad is too. I'm rather crazy about my people, but I've said enough. Don't know what got me going or—'"

"I got you going!" admitted Nancy, a twinkling light in her blue eyes. And then: "Oh, look! Is that a snow-capped mountain range on the horizon?"

Matthew nodded. "Here's where we turn. Do you mind a little cross-country riding in this old wreck? You're likely to get some jolts, but—Look out there."

This warning was too late, and only a quick snatch of Matthew's arm which brought her tight against his khaki coat for just a minute, kept Nancy from losing her balance as they dipped into a rain-worm gully. When he released her and the girl looked up, she saw that all his previous confusions were as nothing compared to the embarrassment that engulfed him now. This amused sophisticated Nancy, and she said demurely:

"Thanks for saving my life! Is that another of those pleasant little thank-you-me-ams looming up ahead? If you'll tell me when one's approaching I'll hang on tight and save you the trouble of rescuing me a second time."

"It—it wasn't a bit of trouble," murmured Matthew. "I mean—I didn't in the least mind it—"

"I'm glad to know that the experience wasn't unpleasant," broke in Nancy, her eyes dancing. "Do I get out here?" (As Matt, his face the color of a penny, stopped the engine.) "And do I keep straight on until I reach the top?"

"I'd better show you the way, hadn't I? That is—unless—unless you'd rather go alone. I—I don't want to butt in if—"

"Oh, come on," laughed Nancy. "I wasn't keen on solitude, if that's what you mean. And if you've got time to play around for an hour, nothing would please me more. Jack was vanquishing a wood pile; Cousin Columbine was napping, and Aurora was too much inclined to give advice, so I ran away."

Matthew laughed softly. It was a pleasant laugh and his voice was pleasant too, thought Nancy, when he forgot himself and spoke naturally.

"Aurora Tubbs strikes me completely dumb," he told her; "and advice is one of her strong points. She's never recovered from my going to college—thinks it was the last word in foolishness. What's she found to pick at about you?"

"Stockings!" said Nancy, and wondered if Matt, following close behind in the narrow path, was blushing again. "My sport hose got left at home, and she implored me to borrow a pair of Cousin Columbine's 'black cottons.' Honestly, I didn't know till I saw Cousin Columbine the day we came, that cotton stockings were manufactured any more."

"They're growing scarcer all the time," said Matthew gravely. "Even in Pine Ridge there's not much call for 'em; and the high lace boot is doomed."

Nancy whirled about. This was the strangest young man she had ever come across. One moment he stammered with confusion, and the next was saying something as amusing as it was unexpected. Their eyes met as she turned, and they both laughed, and laughing, felt better acquainted.

"I wonder," remarked the girl as she started forward, "where Cousin Columbine gets hers?"

"You mean the boots?"

Nancy nodded because the trail was steeper here, and she found herself a little short of breath.

"Maybe she gets 'em where she gets the mittens," suggested Matthew. "Slow down, Miss—"

"Don't be Victorian," said Nancy, without turning. "Was I going too fast?"

"Too fast for your own good, at this altitude. It takes time to get acclimated when you're transplanted from sea level. Has your brother found a job?"

"Not yet; and he's pretty worried. Oh, just look at the Peak! And—and—why I never imagined such a view. I didn't know there was anything like it in the world!"

Matt beamed, as pleased with her enthusiasm as if he were responsible for the view himself.

"Keep on," he told her, "till you reach that old pine that's been struck by lightning. That tree is practically on the summit; and there isn't a finer view for miles."

"How could there be?" Nancy stood, breathless at the foot of the ancient tree. Plains and mesas, and mountains lay stretched before her—behind her—on every side; valleys that would be green as emeralds in summer; deep gorges; snow-capped peaks. "It's almost too beautiful to be true," she said at last. "Why has no one ever built a home here on this spot?"

Matt tapped the scarred old tree trunk, shaved clear of bark where lightning had done its work. "A house would be too good a target! This is the highest point in several miles. Are you afraid of thunder showers?"

"If so, you'd better pack your trunk before the middle of May!"

"Are the showers so bad?"

Depends On Soldiers

Ethiopia May Lose Services Of The Red Cross

The ministrations of the Red Cross may be withheld from Ethiopia in case of war with Italy because Emperor Haile Selassie has so far been unable to give his word that his soldiers will not mutilate captives, according to Field Director T. A. Lambie, of the Ethiopian mission service. Dr. Lambie explained the Emperor could not "sincerely" pledge his word in this regard because of the almost uncontrollable ferocity of some Ethiopian frontier tribes. The mission director is trying to organize in London an ambulance corps for Ethiopia.

Tip For Stamp Collectors

Stamp collectors have had a new postmark ruling aimed at them. Some, it seems, prefer to take a full sheet of stamps and gaze at it until they find a stamp of a variation in shade or style that suits their strange taste, then purchase it. New orders have been issued to postal stamp sales folk that in future the stamp collector cannot peek; he'll get just the same treatment as any other stamp purchaser.

Long Bicycle Trip

Federal Machine From Nova Scotia To Vancouver

A 20-year-old jobless farmhand from Nova Scotia has a bit of advice to pass on to ambitious young Canadians who are unemployed and desire to keep up their morale and good health.

His advice is—do something. Two months ago Hubert Smith of Amherst, N.S., packed a few belongings including some blankets and a tent, packed them on his bicycle and started out.

Recently he arrived in Vancouver, ruddy-faced, happy and in the best of health after cycling 3,750 miles over Canadian highways with his 80-pound load.

THE RHYMING
OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis
FORSAKEN CRESTS

Upon a hill, no matter where,
A hill abrupt and bold, rock-strewn,
Four walls, unfinished, cleave the air
And fade in light of sun and moon.

They crumble in the wind and rain;
All unperceived, slowly year by year,
The minute with the earth and sky
Their outline grows less sharp, less clear.

I wonder if the builder's thought
Does not, in longing, sometimes wing
Back to this hope which came to
This poor, eroded, ruined thing?

Once I built so; dear God, I yearn
For vistas cloud-brushed, sun-sweet, vast!

Who knows? Perhaps I shall return
To those forsaken crests at last!

Talking About House-Flies

—Do You Know This?

Doctors And Scientists Realize Danger To Human Life Caused By This Pest

A common house-fly has four black stripes on its back. It has large eyes, short feelers and one pair of wings. It has two small, round balancers, borne on slender stalks, which also act as organs of hearing. A house-fly cannot bite. Its mouth is spread out for sucking. It has to soak a hard object, like a grain of sugar, with saliva from its own mouth before it can suck it up.

It breeds in heaps of filth and waste and carries disease germs on its hairy legs. It lays one hundred to two hundred eggs in one batch which hatch into maggots in twenty-four hours and after five days become the pupae. This refers to the in-between stage after they are maggots and before they are adult flies.

It is any wonder that doctors, scientists, health authorities who realize the danger to human life which is carried around by its deadly pest, urge its extermination by every possible means. Infant Diarrhoea, which causes the death of so many little children during the summer months, has been directly traced to the common house-fly.

Cleaning up unsanitary, fly-breeding places around the house, keeping food and drink covered and cupboard doors closed, using screens on doors and windows will all help, but one of the safest, cleanest, surest, easiest methods of killing all the flies is to use Wilson's Fly Pads, for an hour or two during the warm weather. They'll keep you free of the disgusting pests. Isn't it worth a little thought for the children's sake?

British Short Wave Programs

To Be Featured Over Canadian Radio Commission Network

Rebroadcasting throughout Canada of British short wave programs will shortly become a regular feature in the national network programs of the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Commission.

After months of experimenting the commission has constructed near Ottawa, a powerful short wave receiving station which will pick up British Broadcasting Corporation programs and relay them direct to CRO in Ottawa. There they will later be put out over the commission's national network.

With the powerful new receiver in stations in England, France, Germany and other European countries on what is known as the great circle line.

Because of the difference in time which makes it inconvenient to Canadian listeners to hear British programs direct, the daily program will not be relayed in full. Rather, phone recordings will be made of the best, and they will be a regular feature each evening in the national programs.

Investigate Wreck

Charges Made That S.S. Millpool Was Not Seaworthy

Charges that the ill-fated S.S. Millpool, which went down last October in the Atlantic with a loss of 26 lives, was "an old wreck" were heard in London at the board of trade investigation into the disaster. John Swanson and Charles Hanson, who served aboard the vessel in 1934, testified a seaman, attempting to knock scale off the side of the ship with a broom, rammed a hole four inches square through the side with the broom head.

A most thrilling sport has been developed by a Frenchman, who coasts down precipitous hills on a sled that he has designed to which a parachute is attached.

Little Helps For This Week

Speak Lord; for Thy servant heareth. I. Samuel 3.9.

Though heralded with nought of fear,
Or outward sign or show,
Though only to the inward ear
It whispers soft and low;
Though dropping as the manna fell,
Unseen, yet from above,
Noises as dew-fall, heed it well—
Thy Father's call of love.

—J. G. Whittier.

This is one result of the attitude into which we are put by humility, by purity, by calmness; that we have the silence in which to watch what is the will of God concerning us. If we think no more of ourselves than we ought to think, if we seek not our own but others' welfare, if we are prepared to take all things as God's dealings with us, then we may have a chance from time to time to catch God's hand as he tells us. In the Musselman devotions one constant gesture is to put the hands to the ears as if to listen to the messages from the other world. This is the attitude which our minds assume if we have a standing place above and beyond the stir and confusion of this mortal world.

Government Has Control Over Farmers To Great Extent

No farmer in France, according to French regulations, may sow the same field in wheat two years in succession. On April 1 every year the French farmer must declare the area he has sown to wheat, and on August 1 every holder of more than a ton of wheat or flour must declare his holdings to the government.

Wednesday when a cyclist almost collided with a car. It is reported the cyclist was going at a fast speed when he came face to face with a car coming around a corner. Seeing that a crash was inevitable he threw himself clear, the bicycle careening under the wheels of the car.

Driving from the west on Friday,
Mr. Vaughan, well-known commercial traveller, was so engrossed in conversation with Tom Uphill,
M.L.A. for Fernie, that he approached the railway crossing at too high speed to safely make the turn, with the result that the car overturned and the occupants suffered minor injuries. The car landed upside down in the ditch, and was brought into Sentinel Motors for repairs.

The Boy Scouts postponed their summer camp owing to not being able to secure an adult leader to supervise them. Several boys had planned on going to Waterton lakes for a two weeks camp, and it was very disappointing that they could not go. Their regular scoutmaster was also sorry, as his work would not allow him to go at this particular time. The boys who had planned on going were James Allan,
Alfie and Ronald Jones, John Carro and George McMullen.
